1. Traditional Puerto Vallarta Foods and Drinks.

Capirotada

This traditional dessert from northwest Mexico is prepared on Good Friday for Easter. This kind of bread pudding, soaked in a syrup of cane sugar, cinnamon and cloves, is decorated (depending on the recipes) with different ingredients such as: dried fruits, bananas, apples, dates, pecans, etc. . This dish is considered by the majority of Mexican families as an evocation of the Passion of Christ: the bread representing the body of Christ, the syrup his blood, the cloves the nails of the cross, and the whole cinnamon sticks representing them. the wood of the cross... Some recipes also add melted cheese for the symbolism of the Holy Shroud.

Ceviche

It is a popular seafood dish in Vallarta consisting of raw fish, octopus or fresh shrimp, cooked in lime juice, with chili pepper, chopped onion, cilantro and other seasonings . It is then served on crispy toast with a variety of spicy sauces.

Chilaquiles

They are not only a traditional food in Puerto Vallarta, but also throughout Mexico! The dish is usually served for breakfast or lunch and may be accompanied by a red or green sauce. The red sauce offers an earthier, warmer flavor, while the green sauce gives it a spicier, brighter hue. Both have an authentic touch of Mexican spices. Chilaquiles are a mouth-watering dish consisting of crispy tortilla chips tossed in a red or green sauce. They can be served with chicken or flank steak and can be topped with fried eggs, onion, sour cream, avocado, cheese and cilantro.

Conchas

In the pastries and biscuits section, conchas, tasty sweet breads in the shape of shells flavored with orange, are popular.

Enchiladas

A crepe topped with beef, chicken or cheese simmered in a chili sauce with tomatoes and onions. It is sometimes served topped with sour cream.

Guacamole

Avocado puree seasoned with lime, coriander, chili pepper, tomato, and fresh or red onion. This recipe, which comes to us from the Aztecs (16th century), improved over time to today become one of the emblematic dishes of Mexico. Very simple to make, all you need is a mortar and pestle to make a delicious guacamole. It is generally served at the start of a meal, accompanied by hot tortillas.

Horchata

Made from tiger nuts, this drink has over time become a staple of Mexican cuisine, imported by Spanish settlers. Rich in minerals as well as vitamins, this delicious and fragrant drink (especially with cinnamon) can be served with crushed ice for even more freshness.

Micheladas

It's a Mexican drink with a special twist and the perfect exotic drink to complete your day at the beach! A michelada is made with beer, tomato juice, lemon juice, spices (which add a touch of heat) and chili peppers. The drink is then served in an iced glass frosted with salt, chili flakes and lime. In Vallarta, it is served with a vinaigrette of seafood and fresh vegetables, usually shrimp, cucumber and carrot.

Mole

It is a sauce made from cocoa, chili pepper, plantain, sesame, peanut, generally poured over pieces of chicken. This recipe from the pre-Columbian era has several variations depending on the region, and several colors (green, black, or red) depending on the quantity of the ingredients that compose it.

Panuchos

Originally from the Yucatan region, this dish consists of thick, fried corn tortillas, filled with mashed red beans, meat (pulled chicken or turkey), tomatoes, onions and avocado. This dish is served during dinner.

Tres Leches Pastel

Since the 19th century, this delicious dessert has been a mixture of whole milk + sweetened condensed milk + unsweetened condensed milk (sometimes replaced by crème fraîche).

Pescado Embarazado

One of the most representative dishes of Puerto Vallarta, its name is a corruption of "roasted fish on a stick". It consists of exquisite pieces of fish, usually dogfish or marlin, coated with lemon, coated with lemon, grilled over the coals and seasoned with huichol sauce. On occasion, fish can be used in place of shrimp.

Pescado Zarandeado

The basis of this dish is Snapper, a fish typical of the Mediterranean and Atlantic. It is cut in half, spread with a sauce with different ingredients (in Puerto Vallarta, Huichol sauce is usually used for marinade), and put on a grill press and turned again and again. It comes with white rice and tortillas, accompanied by a spicy tomato sauce.

Pozole de Camarón

It is a combination between traditional pozole and seafood. It is a flavorful stew, made with dried shrimp, small shrimp, hominy corn, ancho and guajillo peppers and spices. It comes with lettuce, onion, radishes, cream and lemons.

Quesadillas

A type of turnover which consists of a tortilla filled with cheese, fried beans, minced meat, folded in half then returned to the plancha or cooked over a wood fire.

Tortilla soup.

Simple to make, particularly delicious and spicy, tortilla soup has a delicious aroma that delights the taste buds and pepper lovers. A unique and emblematic recipe.

Tamales

It is prepared with white corn dough which can be stuffed with green or red tomatoes, meat and chili peppers. Typical dish from all of America, with its local variations and dating from before the conquest.

Ahogada Tortas

These are cakes made from birote, a typical Mexican bread, which for this specialty is filled with pork, but it can also be with shrimp or other meats and then immersed in chili sauce. For tourists, sauces are offered in varying degrees of spiciness, to suit all palates.

Tostadas

This type of taco consists of a crispy corn tortilla filled with meat and rolled up on itself. Its particularity is that the salad will be on top and not inside.

Tacos:

Corn has been the staple food of Mexicans since before the conquest of the country by the Spanish. The word “taco” is believed to come from “quauhtaqualli” which, in Nahuatl, refers to a variety of corn “tortilla”. Nahuatl is an indigenous language that was spoken by a number of peoples in northern and central Mexico, particularly the Aztecs. The Spanish, unable to pronounce the full word “quauhtaqualli”, called them more simply “tacualli”, which over time became “taco”.

A “taco” is simply made up of a corn tortilla in the center of which any type of filling (meat or vegetables) is placed. Tacos are eaten with your fingers.

Birria Tacos

They are a traditional food in Puerto Vallarta and a favorite breakfast for many locals. Birria taco stands can be found on most street corners. Birria is a stew of meat bathed and marinated in a mixture of herbs, spices and chili peppers. The meat is soft and tender and is cooked in a delicious red caldillo-style sauce, then served in a tortilla. You can add cilantro, chopped onion, lime, and salsa to your taco to add even more flavor. The meat that is usually served is beef, but it is not uncommon to find goat or lamb birria tacos. Typically served as a breakfast or lunch taco before 2 p.m.

Tacos al Pastor

They are found on most streets in PV and are usually an afternoon or evening delight. The delicious tacos were historically inspired by the culinary skills of Lebanese immigrants to Mexico, which is why the meat is uniquely marinated and slow-cooked on a vertical axis. Succulent orange-colored meat (usually pork) is slow-cooked to perfection on the vertical roaster, marinated with spices, herbs and chilies. Then it is served in tortillas accompanied by onion, cilantro, lemon and sauce.

Asada Tacos

Tacos de asada is one of the greatest street food tacos. They are made with carne asada, which simply means grilled meat. Most tacos de asada refer to the cuts beef, and you can use everything from cheap beef skirts to ribs. The beef is grilled and seasoned and cut into small taco portions.

Barbacoa Tacos

Tacos de barbacoa is prepared using cuts of beef that are cooked to perfection. The beef is seasoned with a blend of chili peppers and other Mexican spices before being cooked barbecue style (barbacoa means barbecue). The meat is ground then placed in corn tortillas before being squeezed with lime and other toppings.

Head and lengua tacos

Taco ingredients don't stop with tongues and innates because tacos de cabeza offer another adventurous option to try. Cabeza meat is meat from the head of an animal that has been slowly steamed and tender.

Canasta tacos

Tacos de canasta is often said to be the "original street taco", and you'll easily find them for breakfast, lunch and dinner. It is a cheap street food sold from baskets (tacos de canasta means basket tacos). They are traditionally steamed and are filled with simple ingredients like potatoes and beans. They're also known as sweat tacos, perhaps because they can be incredibly greasy.

Carnita Tacos

Tacos de carnitas is a Mexican classic. Carnitas come from Michoacan, and the term means "small meat." The pork is slowly cooked in its own fat until it is literally falling apart. This is the ultimate pulled pork recipe, and with a little spice and seasoning (and some authentic corn tortillas), you have carnitas tacos.

Tacos de cazo

It is not a particular type of taco, but rather a style of cooking the meat filling. A Mexican "cazo" is a large metal bucket. This metal bucket is held over a fire and used to slow cook meats in lard, or their own fat, for a decadent and tender finish. These are cuts of beef, cooked slowly in a cazo.

Chicharrón Tacos

These are pork ribs and offal fried to a crunchy finish. They are soft tortillas, loaded with crispy, crunchy chicharrón. Add a salsa verde alongside some lime or lime garnishes.

Chorizo tacos

Sausage seasoned with chili peppers or smoked paprika with some (very spicy) toppings.

Golden Tacos

Tacos de dorados (Golden Tacos) are not opened, but are rolled up and often fried for a crispy finish. The rolled taco is first filled with fillings, whether seasoned meat, beans, cheese, or potatoes. The fried taco is then served on a plate with sauce or cheese added on top. Necessary utensils.

Fish Tacos

The original fish tacos were cooked using inexpensive shark meat. Today there are countless varieties, from crispy fried cod to salmon tacos topped with avocado.

Tinga tacos

They consist of shredded chicken or beef, slow-cooked in a spicy sauce, often a gravy. They are served with lime or lemon, guacamole, salsa or spicy sauce. Tacos de tinga is said to have originated in Puebla. (Spices).

A Mi Manera

#422 of 1047 restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.8/5 Opentable (239 reviews)

Traditional and contemporary Mexican cuisine. Healthy.

- The restaurant also offers breakfasts of traditional Mexican cuisine, à la carte from Wednesday to Friday and buffet on Saturdays and Sundays (cost $150 adults, $60 children)

*Francisca Rodriguez 165, Zona Romántica, Emiliano Zapata

A page in the sun

of 40 Coffee and tea in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.6/5 Google (647 reviews)

Café Vegetarians welcome Vegan options.

- Nice little bakery and gallery. My daughter ordered a lemon cheesecake for my birthday. Everyone loved it. The following week we decided to try the tres leches cake for my husband's birthday. It was excellent, it was our first time trying the tres leches cake. Everything in the bakery looked delicious. I highly recommend it.

*Lázaro Cárdenas 169, Zona Romantica

A Taste of Italy (Sabor de Italia)

#117 of 1,047 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.5/5 Google (285 reviews)

Italian food. Vegetarian and vegan dishes.

- This is a great little restaurant in the romantic zone of Puerto Vallarta. The food is delicious and the owner Roger is the hardest working man in Puerto Vallarta. Highly recommended.

*Venustiano Carranza SN-O, Zona Romántica, Emiliano Zapata

Ah Caramba!

#153 of 1,047 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.4/5 Google (419 reviews)

Mexican Cuisine, Seafood, International.

- Panoramic view, one of the highest in PV, sunset. Very good. It is a good place that is worth visiting because it has Mexican recipes from sea and land and in addition to this has a spectacular panoramic view, is a very nice and quiet place that if you enjoy the stay and has a variety of dishes that delight each of them so I recommend visiting it.

*VS. Ecuador 1071, 5 de Diciembre

Abulón Antojeria Del Mar

#137 of 1,047 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.7/5 Google (846 reviews)

Mexican, Latin American cuisine. Seafood.

- Without a doubt one of the best seafood restaurants in Puerto Vallarta I have ever visited. To begin with, the service is good, the waiters are very attentive, with a good attitude, and the delivery of drinks and food is quick. The prices are fair because they serve good portions and the taste is delicious. Everything I ordered was spectacular, the seafood looks fresh and you can see they take care of all the ingredients they put on the plate. The drinks are fantastic. Without a doubt an unforgettable experience!

*Hamburgo 137 Puerto Vallarta JAL 48310 MX

Adobes

#115 of 1,047 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.7/5 Google (302 reviews)

International cuisine. Vegetarian products. Vegan options.

- Excellent place to eat, it's not luxurious, but it's still clean, pleasant and cozy, the food is very artisanal, with a very homemade taste, it's not expensive at all, the prices are very accessible, and the waiter who served me was always very friendly and attentive to the table. Well known for these filet mignons. Family business, friendly service.

*VS. Fco. I. Madero 259, Zona Romantica

Abbraccio Cucina Italiana

#48 of 1,047 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.7/5 Google (1456 reviews)

Italian, Tuscan, Sicilian cuisine.

- This place never disappoints: great atmosphere, super friendly service and great times in the experience. I hadn't tried the clericot and it's really fantastic. We had the pasta a la ruota with shrimp and we couldn't miss a pizza, which they do very well in this place. Besides, the price-quality ratio is still very fair.

*Blvd. Francisco Medina Ascencio 2590, Zona Hotelera, Zona Hotelera Nte

Italian cuisine, Neapolitan, Pizza.

- They have fabulous pizza and pasta, it's so good. For several years we have been eating at this restaurant. Exceptional quality/price The wine list is very good and affordable. The character is helpful and very courteous.

*Morelos 128, Centro

Archies Wok

#115 of 1,351 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.6/5 Google (807 reviews)

Asian restaurant.

- A great place to eat Southeast Asian food. The place is simple but nicely decorated and the prices are relatively affordable considering the quality of the food. I've tried some of the best restaurants in Vallarta and this is one of my super favorites. Order the chicken red curry (which they make with a coconut milk base or something) or the beef imperial, both are unabashedly plate-licking. Congratulations to the owners. Places like this make Puerto Vallarta magical.

*Francisca Rodriguez 130, Zona Romántica, Emiliano Zapata

Armando's Place

#3 of 132 Restaurants in Bucerias. (Triadvisor) 4.7/5 Google (198 reviews)

Mexican Cuisine, Seafood, International.

- Armando made us feel at home! We ate the best paella.... better than the one we ate in Madrid! Every piece...shrimp, fish, mussels, lobster....was fresh and delicious. Don't forget the unique and excellent Caesar salad. And start the evening with a basil and tequila lemonade. A most excellent experience. We will come back !

*Francisco I. Madero 34, Zona Dorada, 63732 Bucerías, Nay.

Ascencio Tacos Y Chelas

#440 of 1,047 restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.9 Google (56 reviews)

Mexican and International cuisine. Tacos. Brewery.

- An authentic taco restaurant. I am delighted to come to Ascencio, the tacos are mesmerizing and with a unique taste. Recommend the resource stamp reserve, which you will test, is ideal for sharing. The chef's creativity is incredible, each of them makes a special taco very different from one that is on the menu, offering an amazing combination of dishes. The service is excellent and the music is very varied, so meetings have plenty of seats.

Azul Celeste Restaurant & Bar

#8 of 1,047 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.7/5 Google (2047 reviews)

Italian, Mexican and International cuisine. Seafood.

- Very high up, it is certainly one of the best views in Vallarta. Excellent food and service. I went there a few times with a group. Carol Poulin. Other: What a beautiful view!!! We were recommended another place down the street, but when we came across this one we just couldn't pass it up. The best views in town! We went for dinner at sunset and it was absolutely beautiful! There was even a musician who played the trumpet. It was such a romantic setting. I know a few people have already said the service was slow, I think for us it was a perfect speed and our server was very on point without necessarily hovering. Prices were good for the area! The food was delicious.

Barcelona Tapas

#8 of 1,047 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.7/5 Google (2047 reviews)

Tapas-style Spanish cuisine.

- A superb view. Open-air rooftop restaurant with superb views of the city and church above Hidalgo Park from the Malecon. Spanish cuisine, tapas style, and they do cooking classes too. We recommend the paella and octopus. Our cuisine specializes in Spanish dishes, where we imprint our very particular style to give it those sweet notes of homemade flavor, since some of our dishes are cooked over a wood fire, which gives it that characteristic touch. Our ingredients are selected in a special way and taking care of their freshness and good condition.

*VS. Matamoros 906, Centro

Barrio Bistro

#48 of 1,352 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.7/5 Google (643 reviews)

Italian, French, Mexican cuisine.

- Restaurant hot spot in the Versailles district. Its creative and imaginative dishes, with fresh regional ingredients, are served in a room full of art, flowers and soft music. The garden patio is also an enchanting space for dining. Recommended: the al pastor fish fillet.

*VS. España 305, Versailles.

Blake's Restaurant and Bar

#177 of 1,364 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.1/5 Google (422 reviews)

Canadian cuisine. American, BBQ, vegetarian burgers, vegan.

- Canadian owner, the food is good. Very nice terrace, good service and well-filled plates. My girlfriend tried the extravagant dish and she brought more than half of it home. (Muriel). The food was excellent and the Pina Coladas were so good. Thanks to our server Dana, Chef Dante and Jacinto for making the best drinks. The service and overall experience was excellent as everyone went out of their way to provide the best dining experience for our group of eight.

*Puerto Mágico, Local K2, Area Militar de Vallarta, 2nd floor.

Boccon di vino (Di Nuovo)

#106 of 1,047 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.6/5 Google (406 reviews)

Mediterranean Italian Cuisine. Vegetarian products.

- Good pasta. This was our first time here, after years of being recommended to us. Yes, it is under new ownership and yes, it is an Italian restaurant not to be missed. We loved the ambiance, the service and the food. Our dinner included excellent wine choices, delicious salads, and authentic, hearty main courses with seafood and good pastas. The garden was such a beautiful area and on the way back I will try the sangrias ordered by another table. I love this place and I'm so happy I found it.

*Francisco I Madero 441, Zona Romántica, Emiliano Zapata.

Bonito Kitchen & Bar

#116 of 1,047 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.6/5 Google (971 reviews)

Asian, Vietnamese cuisine. Vegetarian products.

- Amazing food and service. The cocktails were so cool and refreshing, honestly probably one of the best cocktails I've had since pre-recession Dubai (this is a note for me to remind myself how good it was) - great fresh fruit and not too sweet. The food was also really delicious and the staff and kitchen were perfect to accommodate one of our little picky eaters. We found the perfect portions to share. Both of our children were very disappointed when we told them we didn't have this restaurant at home. Hoping to return one more time before leaving PV.

BrewHaus Cerveceria Brewery

#621 of 1,359 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.6/5 Google (348 reviews)

American cuisine. Pizza

- Beautiful terrace. Brewhaus is a great upscale restaurant/bar in Fluvial, near Costco. The drinks and food are perfect. We had wings and pizza tonight and they were both excellent! Hola Teddy will be updating our "Best Pizza in Puerto Vallarta" blog to include Brewhaus!

*Lago Huron, Av Fluvial Vallarta 113

Bravos Restaurant, bar

#43 of 1,356 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.8/5 Google (452 reviews)

International cuisine. Seafood. Vegetarian products.

- an eclectic and impressive menu, with a fine selection of fine cuts of meat and dishes of pasta, we recommend the seafood fettuccine. Impeccable food and service. One of the best restaurants in Vallarta. This is a beautiful restaurant in the Romantic Zone that has great servers and a delicious menu. It is a very romantic style place, ideal for dates or special occasions. We had the sesame seared tuna and the lasagna and both were delicious. The red velvet cake for dessert was hearty, warm and delicious.

*VS. Fco. I. Madero 263, Zona Romántica, Emiliano Zapata.

Burger Station

#94 of 1,047 Restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.7/5 Google (167 reviews)

Cuisine of the United States. Bar. Vegetarian products.

- The cooks prepare delicious burgers here. This restaurant is recommended for its friendly staff.

Friendly service is something these restaurateurs hold dear. Here you will pay reasonable prices. Inside, the atmosphere is exotic.

- Excellent ! Both by the server's reception and by our reservation we were a group of 9 people for my wife's birthday. We were almost all served at the same time and the meals were hot. Our server was a little funny and gave us impeccable service.

We had a visit from a beautiful drag queen who brightened up the entire restaurant and livened up the conversations. Small recommendation: Make a reservation otherwise you may be disappointed since we were in the middle of the week and the restaurant was packed.

Traditional Mexican cuisine. Vegetarian and vegan dishes.

- Musicians. Excellent food, but watch the bill... The upstairs garden patio overlooks the streets, the malecon and the bay. Three generations of Gaby's family still run the restaurant. With tables throughout the house and a charming garden patio upstairs, Gaby's is an intimate, friendly and welcoming space. Recommended: chili en Nogada, a sweet poblano chili, stuffed with meat, vegetables, nuts and pomegranates, bathed in a delicate walnut sauce and their mole. Also, Chili Relleno, Tortilla Soup or Tequila Shrimp. You can also have a tasting of their Mole. (Francine)

Upscale Mexican and international cuisine. Brunch.

Live music. Rooftop. Mariachi. Great view. Very high end and astronomical price. World-class restaurants with impeccable service. Scenic site perched on the red tiled rooftops of downtown Vallarta with stunning views of the Church and Banderas Bay. Angelic architecture and sculpture. The Mariachis play every evening except Saturday. The atmosphere is perfect. The designs are exquisite and you feel like you have entered old colonial Mexico. We recommend the chile poblano stuffed with shrimp in a chipotle tomato sauce. Offering a superbly elegant and picturesque experience, you're sure to enjoy the views of the Sierra Madres, Banderas Bay and the evening fireworks from Puerto Vallarta. Also recommended by J. Labbé.

Italian and Mediterranean cuisine. Seafood & fish.

- 10/10 across the board! The place is small, intimate and welcoming. The service is superb. The food is incredibly fresh and consistent every visit. My choice is fettuccine frutti di mare and I am obsessed with this dish. Highly recommend.

Amazing pasta house. I've been here twice since I discovered it a few weeks ago. It's excellent. It's a small but very welcoming place. Bright and pretentiously decorated. The service is relaxed, attentive and fun. The food is exceptional. We tried several items and shared. Love them all. My favorite appetizer is fresh marinated seafood tapenade. All the pastas were delicious, whether with pesto, cream or red sauce. Favorites were shrimp pasta, seafood pasta and mushroom pasta. All the perfect amount of garlic and seasoning. I will come back often.

Kaiser Maximilian

#44 of 1,357 restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.7/5 Google (497 reviews)

Austrian, European cuisine. Vegetarian products.

- Designed to resemble a 19th-century Viennese café, Kaiser Maximilian has a distinctly European, not Mexican, atmosphere. This is the perfect place to go if you want to combine exceptional food and great people watching. Austrian-born owner Andreas Rupprechter is almost always on hand to ensure that the service is impeccable and the food delicious. Indoor, air-conditioned dining takes place on tables comfortable; Sidewalk tables are larger and ideal for groups of friends. The cuisine fuses old-world European preparations with fresh regional ingredients (think Viennese schnitzel with a Mexican twist). Recommended dishes include horseradish-crusted trout fillet; rack of lamb wrapped in bacon; and seared scallops with butternut squash puree. The gourmet coffees and desserts made in the adjacent café and patisserie are famous throughout the city: I'd try the warm chocolate and bourbon pecan pie if I were you.

Mexican cuisine. Latin American Seafood.

- Exceptionally delicious and affordable flavor profiles. We highly recommend the braised tuna taco, the carnitas taco, the crab and octopus tostada... but honestly, everything is delicious. Aguachile is a local favorite, which is shrimp served ceviche style with cucumber and habanero. The tuna and mango tostada, the marlin taco or the devilish octopus are also great. Spice it up with one of their seven house sauces and wash it all down with their pineapple basil infused drink.

Melissa's

#64 of 1,348 restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.7/5 Google (237 reviews)

- In 2023, I went there twice with a group. Small friendly restaurant, we were on the terrace. Forget the beautiful view. Super friendly owner, excellent food, perfect and very fast service so much so that we spontaneously came down surrounded by the owner and his wife to applaud them. Carol Poulin. Other: What a treat! The welcome at this small, truly typical restaurant and not a "tourist trap" is really good, as is the service from Diego, the son of the owner Melissa. The dishes, for their part, are all generous and delicious. My starter of fried squid and my main course of whole grilled red mullet were perfect without forgetting the (very) spicy salsa served as an appetizer. The grilled octopus dishes or the mahi-mahi with mango sauce that the other guests had with a starter of abundant and delicious shrimp were also there. As for us, this restaurant located a little away from the tourist area but still only a few streets from the Malecon, is a must and we regularly bring our friends who visit us there.

- Excellent food, service and people! Will also give Meno's Place 5 stars for a number of dishes. Dinner - I had their Carbonara for dinner and it was excellent. The pasta was cooked perfectly and the egg yolk added to the rich and creamy sauce. The shrimp tacos for starters were also amazing, and they are homemade! Alejandro (Alex) was our server and he was super friendly and attentive. Breakfast - Great breakfast but I have to say their sweet bread is the best! Baked and served hot. We met and chatted with the owner Nena! Highly recommend!

- Arrived on time! The place advocates eating connected to the people you go out with, so there is no internet service and that sounds fabulous to me, leave your cell phone for a moment and enjoy a delicious sushi in good company. Mint water is fresh, very rich. Be careful, take cash because they do not accept any other means of payment. If you arrive shortly before 2:00 p.m., you won't have to wait to find a table. The portions are generous, I ordered an order of Tampico from the center of the table and my goodness what a good quantity, a bit spicy to my tasteful but very filling.

El Chulo head tacos

#221 of 1945 restaurants in PV. (Guru) 4.8/5 Google (216 reviews)

Beef head tacos (tongue, cheek etc.)

- This taco stand is for the more adventurous eaters. Beef tongue and cheek tacos have gained a cult following among locals and tourists alike; essential. No part of the cow's head is wasted, including the eyeball. The meat is slowly cooked for 4 to 5 hours and the audience is loyal. This is a very mild meat and retains the flavor of any beef taco. Assortment: lip, meat, eyes, brains, palate, cheek 15 pesos

Tongue Tacos 25 pesos.

Mexican cuisine. Latino Brewery.

- Go here and get the Taco Revolution. Third time here in as many years and I will always stop here.

The service is excellent and the food is amazing. The taco revolution is so good, different types of red meat fried in cheese then in a taco shell, it's so good. You won't go wrong anywhere else on the menu, the volcanoes are great and we had the ice cream for dessert, mango, pineapple, I think guava and orange, orange might have been the best. The t-shirts are great too. Go here if you plan to walk in the romantic zone.

- Very good experience, we will definitely come back. Our experience was excellent, in fact we came back for the second time two days later, the pastor's tacos, ribs, flank steak, guacamole, pearl onions, all so delicious, oh! And for dessert a very good chocolate cake too. Everyone treated us super friendly, attentive and attentive to what we needed, Arturo super attentive, the bartender, the waitresses very good service.

Mexican and Spanish cuisine.

- Run, don't walk to eat here. The food was awesome. My husband had the al pastor tacos (4) and I had the chicken (5). The sauces were great too. I also had a Corona and my husband has water. Our total with 20% was only $12. USD. The food is amazing, the prices are great and the beer is super cold. Not just a local taco place that offers a variety of dishes. Both seafood dishes ranged from 125-100 pesos with lots of shrimp, octopus and a grilled fish. The service is fantastic and the beer costs 30 pesos.

Mexican cuisine.

- Unique chicken, homemade chorizo or tender sea bream. Exotic atmosphere. very tasty, fast and with good service, the handmade tortillas and the stews very rich, the only thing missing was the water, it was lukewarm, and they only put a few ice cubes. Other: Take a look at the Mexican menu. This restaurant's recipe for success is tasty tacos. The staff is positive here. La Terraza de Valle offers a professional service to its customers. We know prices are low here. Its cozy atmosphere awaits you in this place.

- Sea view, sunset, Live music. This restaurant is located on Olas Altas Beach, right by the ocean for spectacular sunset views. They have live music on the weekends and it's under a huge palapa roof. Coconut shrimp, guacamole, red snapper, and octopus are all popular seafood dishes. lunch with friends

We enjoyed the whole experience from margaritas with pico de gallo and fries to main courses. I really enjoyed the fish tacos. The waiter, Josafath and his busser Chuy were excellent, took care of our needs, they were on top of keeping our water topped up, plates cleared and their personalities made us smile and topped off the experience. We will definitely come back.

Mexican, American, international cuisine. Lunch. Crepes.

- Well located in a romantic area with easy access and excellent service with very tasty dishes. Don't forget: cash only. Other: I asked for French toast with strawberries and ended up with a huge plate that I unfortunately didn't finish. In any case, if you have a huge appetite when you wake up, I recommend this place, the team is friendly as is often the case here in Puerto Vallarta and the value for money is good. In terms of atmosphere, it's rather old on average, very American (obviously) but nice.

The Seahorse Cucina Bar & Lounge

#158 of 1,047 restaurants in PV. (Triadvisor) 4.7/5 Google (132 reviews)

Italian, Mediterranean cuisine. Healthy dishes.

- We visited this restaurant for the first time in May 2022. Returning to PV in August, we were keen to return. And remain perplexed by the lack of guests. People don't know what they're missing. Delicious Italian cuisine, with a magnificent view of the Malecon and the bay. Good wine selection, full bar and reasonable prices, with generous portions. We had the special shrimp appetizer, SP, watermelon salad, I had penne with shrimp and vodka sauce, and my husband had chicken scallops with spaghetti. Very good performance. We highly recommend!

- Delicious, I loved the place, the food was very delicious and very good quality, the service was perfect, the atmosphere was made by everyone, the desserts were amazing, I recommend it 100 percent.

(2023) Other: Worth the price. We chose the tasting menu without the wine pairing. Everything was tasty, a gastronomic discovery in each dish, a wine list to match, impeccable service. Try the Pies de Tierra red wine, an excellent Mexican wine. (2020)
